A clear glass vase filled with water holds a bouquet of white spray carnations. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some fully open and others as green buds. The stems are long and green. The vase sits on a light-colored surface. In the background, a framed painting is visible, depicting a landscape with a tree and a cow. The text "Spray Carnations" is written in a white, cursive font over the lower part of the vase.

A photograph of a bouquet of carnations in a glass vase. The flowers are a mix of pink and yellow, with some variegated patterns. They are arranged in a dense, rounded cluster. The vase is clear glass and sits on a light-colored, possibly marble, surface. In the background, there is a large window with a grid pattern, letting in bright light. To the right of the window, there are several large, soft cushions in shades of brown and orange. The overall atmosphere is warm and cozy.
